ENTIRE FAMILY IS POISONED

Mother and Five Children in Precarious Condition at Exeter Hospital.

A strange case of poisoning was reported Wednesday in the family of Moses Camire on Washington street, Exeter. There is a family of six children, five of whom besides Mr. and Mrs. Camire, have been taken suddenly ill. Four of them were taken to the cottage hospital. The cause is presumably from something that was eaten by the family. Physicians are unable at present to tell whether or not any of the cases will result fatally, although Mrs. Camire is on the dangerous list. The children have been taken ill within a period of 35 hours. Their ages run all the way from a year and a half to 13 years.

AMERICAN MINES CONFISCATED

Largest Coal Deposits in Mexico are Seized at Carranza's Orders

Eagle Pass, Texas, May 27—Acting on what they declared was direct orders from General Carranza, Constitutional officials today confiscated five coal mines near Sabins, Mexico. The mines, owned by French and American capitalists are the largest in Mexico. At Constitutional headquarters at Piedras Negras it was stated that the mines would be opened as public properties.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, May 27—Advices have been officially received from Consul Canada that the German steamer Ypiranga landed ammunition today at Puerto, Mexico. Other official reports say that the steamer Bavaria of the same line also landed war munitions there a few days ago. Puerto, Mexico, is an open port officials say and no action is contemplated so far as can be learned.

It is estimated that the Bavaria put ashore 1,800,000 rounds of ammunition. The cargo was destined for Vera Cruz, but was diverted to Puerto, Mexico. The steamer reached Vera Cruz Sunday. The captain could not produce a manifest declaring to the captain of the port that it had been taken away from his by American authorities. Later he admitted landing the cargo while included also 3000 rolls of barbed wire.

General Funston understands that the ammunition and wire reached Cordoba yesterday by way of Tierra Blanca. The captain of the Bavaria is liable to a fine under the laws and the absence of a manifest, a second violation. The Bavaria is held only because clearance will be refused until the matter of fines is adjusted.

The customs officials assert that so far as they know the arms shipments on the Ypiranga was still aboard when the vessel left here for Puerto, Mexico, two days ago. They assume that there is no possibility that the war material aboard the Ypiranga would be landed, as the liner is under charter of the German government at the present time and was ordered to Puerto, Mexico, by the German minister to pluck up German refugees.

Rumors have been current for a week or more that some of the war materials for which Huerta had contracted in Germany had been filtering through to the Federals by way of Puerto, Mexico. Virtually every German liner touching at the Gulf ports has carried arms or ammunition shipped under the contract. The Bavaria incident is the first one where positive information of the landing of these supplies has been received, although there have been intimations here that the army or navy has knowledge of other landings or attempted landings.

The Americans here are inclined to believe that the Huerta officials desire the Bavaria war supplies for strengthening their northern lines, against the Constitutionalists.

General Funston has no information as to what became of the shipment after it reached Cordoba, and it is generally assumed that it is already on the way to Mexico City, from which point it probably will be sent to San Luis Potosi or other Federal strongholds where ammunition is badly needed.

There is no evidence whatever to indicate that the Federals around Vera Cruz are making any elaborate preparations.

Rumors have been current of the building of concrete breastworks and field gun stations in the mountains along the Mexican railway, but reports of eye witnesses tell only of field guns mounted on flat cars, and no great number of these.

ASKS POLICE TO FIND GIRL

Stepfather Keeps Officers Busy With Conflicting Stories.

The local police have been asked by George Frisbee, a resident of Gates street, to locate his fourteen year old step-daughter. Frisbee first said she was at a local hotel, then he claimed she was either at Rockland, Me., Dover, or Rochester, and has kept the police on the run with no results. The girl, he says is married, and has lived in this city but a short time. Owing to the conflicting stories of the step-father, the police could make no headway in their search and finally gave up the case. Frisbee went to Dover on Wednesday and claimed his daughter was in that city. After several hours hunt the officers there failed to get any trace of the girl, who has been gone about a week.

COAL TEAM DEFEAT THE P. A. C.

Onesided Game With Athletic's Pitcher Hit Hard--Brackett Boys Missed.

The Consolidation Coal Company defeated the P. A. C. in a one-sided game in the Sunset League schedule Wednesday evening. The P. A. C. were without Ralph and Bill Brackett and their absence was in evidence from the start. Frank Newick caught and Hatch played short. Leary started in to pitch but the coal men had a batting streak and five singles in the first inning retired him to center and Trueman took his place, but the C. C. were not to be denied and they reached him on both the second and fourth innings.

On the other hand Tom Pilgrim was pitching great ball and he got the support from his team. He only allowed two hits. A long clout by Ira Newick drove a long ball to right center which was good for three bases, Hatch scoring. Lynskey struck out. One run. Bruce opened for the Consolidation with a single. He stole second and on Newick's overthrow went to third. Pilgrim singled and Bruce scored. Pilgrim was thrown out stealing second. Esterbrook struck out. Cragen singled and stole second. Remick singled to center, the ball going through Trueman and Cragen scored. Hatch singled to right center and Remick went home on Woods' error. Smart hit to Hatch who fumbled, allowing Hatch to score. Dowdell retired the side with a grounder to C. Brackett who threw him out. Four runs.

The Game in Detail

The Athletics were up and Howard grounded to third retired him at first. Cragen to Remick, Hatch waited and walked. Trueman struck out. Ira Newick drove a long ball to right center which was good for three bases, Hatch scoring. Lynskey struck out. One run. Bruce opened for the Consolidation with a single. He stole second and on Newick's overthrow went to third. Pilgrim singled and Bruce scored. Pilgrim was thrown out stealing second. Esterbrook struck out. Cragen singled and stole second. Remick singled to center, the ball going through Trueman and Cragen scored. Hatch singled to right center and Remick went home on Woods' error. Smart hit to Hatch who fumbled, allowing Hatch to score. Dowdell retired the side with a grounder to C. Brackett who threw him out. Four runs.

SECOND INNING.
Brackett flied to Cragen. P. Newick was out. Cragen to Remick. Woods hit to Esterbrook who threw him out at first. No runs.

Trueman singled, Newick flied out. P. A. C. Leary taking his place in centerfield. Humphreys singled. Bruce sacrificed Brackett to Remick. Humphreys made third and scored on Trueman's wild pitch. Pilgrim walked. Esterbrook singled. Cragen struck out. Remick hit to Hatch, who fumbled, allowing Pilgrim and Esterbrook to score, and Remick got to first. Bailey struck out. Three runs.

THIRD INNING
Leary hit to Bruce who threw him out at first. Howard was thrown out. Esterbrook to Remick.

Hatch flied out to Bruce. No runs. Smart flied out to Howard. Leary caught Dowdell's fly, and Humphreys was thrown out on a slow hit. Howard to Newick. No runs.

FOURTH INNING
Trueman singled. Newick flied out to Dowdell. Lynskey hit to Esterbrook who threw to Bruce and caught Trueman at second. Bruce doubled. Lynskey A. first retiring the side. No runs. Bruce made a pretty two bagger over right center. Pilgrim hit to Brackett and was thrown out at first. Esterbrook flied out to Hatch. Bruce stole third. Cragen got a two base hit over right center. Bruce scoring. Remick singled and Cragen scored. Remick stole second and third. Bailey singled over second, and Remick scored. Bailey stole two bases. Smart went out on a fly to Howard. Three runs.

FIFTH INNING
Brackett was thrown out. Esterbrook to Remick. Newick grounded to Cragen who fumbled but made a fine recovery, nailing Newick at first. Woods flied out to Esterbrook. No runs.

The score:

Struck out, by Pilgrim 2, by Leary 1, by Trueman 2. Double plays, Esterbrook to Bruce to Remick. Wild pitch, Trueman. Time 1 hour. Umpires, Lahan and Hunter.

NOTES
The game last evening was the only year exhibition of the schedule so far this season.

The P. A. C. will have to strengthen on their pitching department. With the brackets in the game this is the only weak spot in the team.

A little more liberality on the part of the fans would be appreciated.

The young material developed by the league is going to be of great value to base ball in the future. Take for instance young Bailey, who is catching for the Consolidation, this is his first season and he looks like a find. The Y. M. C. A. with its bunch of young fellows, all getting valuable experience, which will mean much to the high school team. Young McDonald on second for the Morley Bulton Co., in fact all of the teams have some new talent which is making good.

MISSING AIRMAN SAFE

Gustave Hamel Lands from a Boat in English Channel.

Newcastle, Eng., May 27.—The Evening Mail says that Gustave Hamel, the British aviator who had been given up for lost in the English channel, landed today from a fishing boat at South Shields.

Hamel left LeCrotoy France on Saturday morning last in a new machine to fly to London, Eng. As he did not arrive it was supposed that he had met with an accident while crossing the English channel and a swarm of torpedo boats spent several days in searching for traces of the missing aviator.

Last night the British admiralty announced that it had reluctantly suspended the search and had abandoned all hope for Hamel's safety.

Hamel a few days ago had announced his intention of attempting to cross the Atlantic in his aeroplane next fall.

OUR WELL-PAID NAVY

The United States navy is the most highly paid of the world's navies. An American admiral draws 3000 pounds a year, as compared with 1100 pounds allotted to the same rank in Great Britain and 900 pounds in Germany; and all other grades of officers are equally well paid in proportion. Even on the lower deck it is possible to draw pay amounting to 30 pounds a month, and every sailor after ten years service is entitled to a substantial pension for life. There is no need to become an American citizen before enlisting. According to a return issued two years ago the United States navy then contained 638 Germans, 435 Irishmen, 294 Swedes, 335 Englishmen, 222 Chinese and 211 Japanese, besides 2875 foreigners, who had taken naturalization papers. From the London Chronicle.

WITH DANIELS ON "DRY NAVY"

Members of the assembly yesterday went on record as favoring national prohibition. They endorsed the national Administration, the State Department and the Navy Department for their action in support of the temperance movement, urged ministers and church members to withdraw from clubs and social organizations which dispensed alcoholic beverages and condemned cigarette smoking.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF FRANCE IS BETWEEN AMERICANS

Versailles, May 27.—Two Americans, Francis Outmet and Henry J. Topping, were left by today's results to fight out the final round for the French amateur golf championship, to be played off here tomorrow.

Three Americans and an Australian competed in the semifinals—Jerome D. Travers, Outmet, Topping and Eric Apperley of New South Wales—winning their matches this morning. Lord Charles Hope, the English holder of the title, was eliminated by Outmet in the morning.

In the semifinals this afternoon, Outmet defeated Apperley by four and three, and Topping beat Travers by three and two. Topping is a member of the Greenwich, Conn., Country Club.

Five of the original 14 American entrants were still left in the tournament at the beginning of the play. These were Francis Outmet, Woodland Golf Club, Massachusetts, open champion of the United States; Jerome D.

Travers of Upper Montclair, N. J., amateur champion of the United States; Henry J. Topping of Greenwich Country Club, Connecticut; Frederick Herreshoff, New York, and W. Bowers, La Boute.

Outmet beat Lord Charles Hope, holder of the title, by one up. This was the match in which most interest was taken. Outmet was stymied at the first hole and knocked Hope's ball in. Both missed two foot putts at the third. Outmet did not putt so well as he did yesterday. He got into several bunkers, but made good recoveries. Hope, for his part, sliced several long shots. At the turn Hope was 1 up. The cards on the outward journey were:

Outmet ..... 5 6 4 5 5 3 5 5 5—43
Hope ..... 4 5 4 6 1 4 6 4 5—43

On the homeward journey the cards were:

Outmet ..... 4 5 4 4 4 3 5 5 4—38
Hope ..... 4 5 4 4 4 4 5 5—40

Henry J. Topping, Greenwich Country Club, Conn., beat J. P. Le Blau of Lille by one up.

Eric Apperley of Sydney, N. S.W., beat W. Bowers, an American member of La Boute Club, by one up.

Jerome D. Travers, American amateur champion beat his fellow-country man, Frederick Herreshoff, of New York, by 5 and 4 in the third round.

Travers, who at first was off his driving, was two down at the third hole, but recovered and was three up on Herreshoff at the turn for home.

BIG IMPROVEMENT MADE ON THE ROADS ABOUT CITY

The Board of Public Works has practically completed the top surfacing of the roads leading into the city.

The Lafayette road to the Rye line, the Greenfield line, and down as far as Spinnery's road on Wellington street and South road on the Middle road side. The Lafayette and Greenfield roads will be given a coating of the heavy oil and the big tank cars are expected here on Monday to begin this work. When this is done these two entrances to the city will be in the best condition they have ever been.

The Sagamore road and Newington roads, helping state roads, are of course in this shape, and they require little attention other than oiling.

A great improvement has even made in the Wellington road from the Plains to Spinnery's road, and when oiled this will be a good place of road. The distance between Spinnery's road to the pavement at railroad crossing, has not been touched, as the Board are awaiting the action of the Council on their recommendation for permanent improvement here.

The road work this year has been the best ever accomplished by the Board, and when the roads are oiled all of the entrances to the city will be a credit to the city.

CLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If Your Back Is Aching or Bladder Bothers; Drink Lots of Water and Eat Less Meat

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with mild, harmless, salts which remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

SHARP CHURCH FIGHT DUE

Report on Home Missions Will Come Today.

Chicago, May 27.—The report of the Board of Home Missions, expected to develop the sharpest contest of the Presbyterian General Assembly, brought to the convention hall today the full consensus of more than nine hundred commissioners.

The desires of the commissioners, who for years have been working for a change, were expressed last night by Dr. Charles L. Thompson, secretary of the board, in an address at the popular meeting.

"Our great need is standardization of our home mission work, reconstruction of the organization and its adaptation in the progress of the country," said Dr. Thompson. "The bell has rung and the whistle has blown and it is time for all to get on board."

Rev. Dr. Warren H. Wilson, secretary of the department of the church and country life, a department which a section of the assembly for several years has endeavored to have abolished, defended the work of his committee.

"We have made twelve surveys of rural communities in order to formulate a national policy," he said. "The lack of the country is in church equipment. Country ministers preach evangelism more earnestly than do city ministers and farmers are not at all with the Church; yet the country church equipment is inadequate."

The charge made by some who are opposed to the present organization of the home mission board that "members all live in the east was ridiculed by Rev. Dr. Penhallow of Decatur, Ill. Dr. Thompson is a western man and so is Dr. Joseph E. McAfee" he said. "They live in the east only because the headquarters of the board are there."

In anticipation of a strenuous debate virtually all the morning session was assigned to the home mission's report.

THE PRAIRIE SAILS FOR HOME

Transport Which Played Prominent Part in the Taking of Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, May 27.—Leaving her anchorage opposite the terminal docks for the first time since her arrival here early in April, the United States transport Prairie sailed yesterday for Hampton Roads, carrying a few refugees and many sick who have been invalided home. The Prairie was the very centre of excitement during the two days' fighting which led to the second raising of the American flag on Mexican soil. From her gangways the first landings of marines set out to seize the custom house and docks when President Wilson's message set in motion the armed forces of the United States. Under the threat of her three-inch guns the city lay during the first day of the fighting, and the Prairie's searchlights swept the waterfront, keeping it clear of snipers during the night when Rear Admiral Fletcher's marines and bluejackets held that portion of the city, awaiting the coming of Badger's battleships to complete the occupation.

All the first and second day the snipers' bullets sang over the bridge of the transport while Rear Admiral Fletcher established his headquarters. The Prairie's guns pounded the enemy from the positions about the steel and stone framework of the new market place before the general advance began, and were first to join the fiercest fight of the second day, when they battered the walls of the Naval Academy.

Aboard the Prairie were gathered the bodies of the seventeen Americans who lost their lives in action, just boat after boat brought their cargo of wounded to the transport to be cared for. There also were gathered on the Prairie three hundred prisoners rounded up by the marines and bluejackets ashore, and until the hospital ship Salace arrived on the third day and relieved the transport of her dead and wounded. The long gray ship was the centre point of all activities.

Captain Stickney and several of the other officers of the Prairie did not accompany the transport on her homeward voyage. They alone of all the naval officers who have served ashore remain in office under the army flag. Captain Stickney is at present first commandant of the port, with the customs house, lighthouse and pilot services under his direction. Several of his officers are aiding him in the task, with the departure of the Prairie only the Salem, the San Francisco, Nashville and Eagle of the American fleet remain inside the breakwater.

HIGH, LADD AND CHESTNUT ONE WAY STREETS

A meeting of the Board of Public Works was held on Wednesday evening with Mayor Yeaton presiding, and it was voted to make High street to Ladd, and Ladd street one way streets also Chestnut street from Congress to State street.

This has been under consideration for some time and the action was taken to prevent the congested conditions of these streets during the height of the summer travel.

The Board also had the usual routine business under consideration.

ADVOCATES A UNIFORM WEIGHT LAW.

Washington, May 27.—Delegates to the ninth annual conference on the weights and measures of the United States, in session here today, planned to appear before the house committee on weights and measures to discuss a uniform weights and measures bill to be introduced in the house. Later they expected to call on President Wilson at the White House.

The conference was opened yesterday with an address by Secretary of Commerce Baileigh, in which he declared that "this society is the most formidable branch of the great American society for the suppression of fraud."

The Last Pipeful of Sickle Is as Fresh as the First

Because you slice Sickle off the plug as you use it, and all the original flavor and moisture are pressed into the plug and kept there by the natural leaf wrapper—so that every piece of Sickle Plug is bound to be fresh when it goes into your pipe. You are sure of a slow-burning, cool, sweet smoke always.

Ground-up tobacco keeps getting drier all the time—so dry that it clogs in the bottom of the package and has to be dug out. No wonder it burns fast, smokes hot and bites the tongue.

When you buy Sickle you get more tobacco—because you can't pay for a package—and you smoke all you get, because there's no tobacco spilled and wasted. Just try Sickle today—your dealer, calls it.

Church of Social Revolution.

A prominent clergyman of an eastern city recently gave a talk in his church on "Bouck White and the growing revolt." Mr. White is the founder of the Church of the Social Revolution in New York and was the leader in a recent disturbance in Calvary Baptist church in that city, of which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a member. He and a number of his followers went to the church and disturbed the services by asking questions about conditions in the Colorado strike district. Mr. White and several others were arrested, and he was convicted of disturbing religious worship and sentenced to six months in jail.

And the strange thing is that the clergyman who discussed the incident and the man seemed to feel that there was some ground for the action of the head of the Church of the Social Revolution. He gave a brief review of his career, showing that he is a well educated man who was regularly ordained to the Congregational ministry and served several years as a pastor and social worker before taking up the task of revolutionizing social conditions and founding a church for the purpose. He is the author of two books in which he sets forth his views on social conditions, one of which is that it is a crime to be rich.

The clergyman discussing the case said that Mr. White's attitude and action "are symptomatic of a growing revolt against an economic system which favors the strong and the privileged as against the ignorant and weak and unprivileged. A feeling that the principles of Jesus are but little applied to social and industrial conditions extends through a wide circle, and this feeling is fast ripening into a conviction."

Granting that there is a measure of truth in that statement, the need of a new church for the rectification of social conditions remains to be demonstrated. Would not conditions be all they should be if the principles of Jesus and the teachings of the Christian church were lived up to? All social and industrial wrongs are in direct violation of the teachings of Christianity and its founder, and if light is what we are seeking it can be found there. No new church is necessary, but simple obedience to the truths of the gospel, which are the same yesterday, today and forever.

And certainly no new church worthy of respect will begin its work by violent interference with other churches. Six months of calm reflection and introspection should prove beneficial to the founder of the Church of the Social Revolution.

The death of Jacob A. Riis removes a man who devoted a large part of his life to social uplift work because of a love for the work and an unfeigned interest in the welfare of his fellow men. As writer, lecturer and practical worker he accomplished large things and won the confidence, respect and admiration of the entire country, as does every man who sincerely and unselfishly exerts himself in behalf of those who need help in the struggle of life.

The navigation company which owned the Titanic, the great ocean steamer that went down on its maiden voyage two years ago with frightful loss of life, must be greatly relieved by the decision of the United States supreme court, which is that its legal liabilities in connection with the disaster are only $91,805. The claims filed ran into the millions. The company will have no desire to "recall" this decision.

Judge Gary is of the opinion that a sentiment is developing in favor of giving big business a fair chance. The great majority of people have always been willing that it should have a fair chance; what they objected to were the chances it took and the methods it employed which were unfair. All are willing that big business should live if it will also let live.

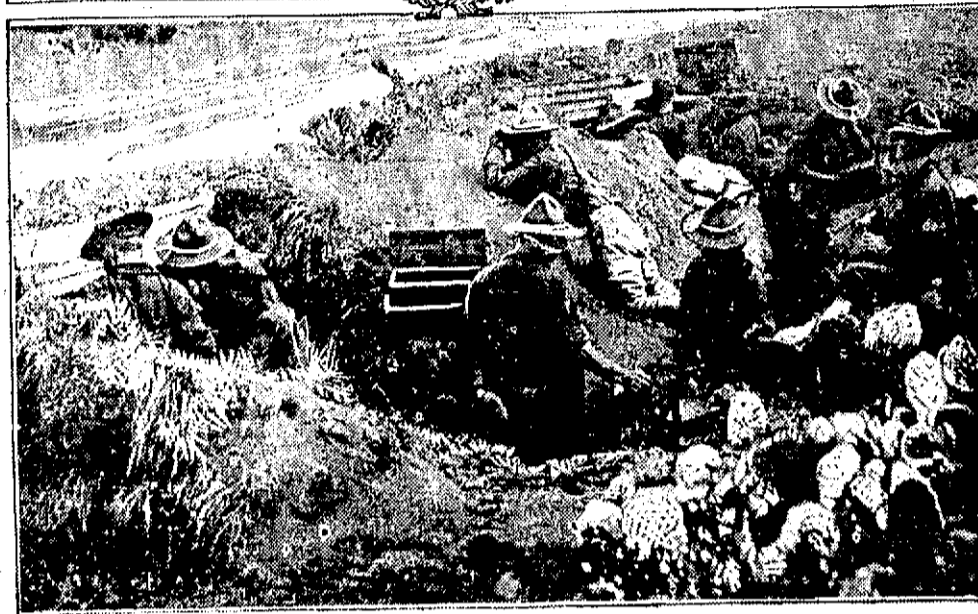

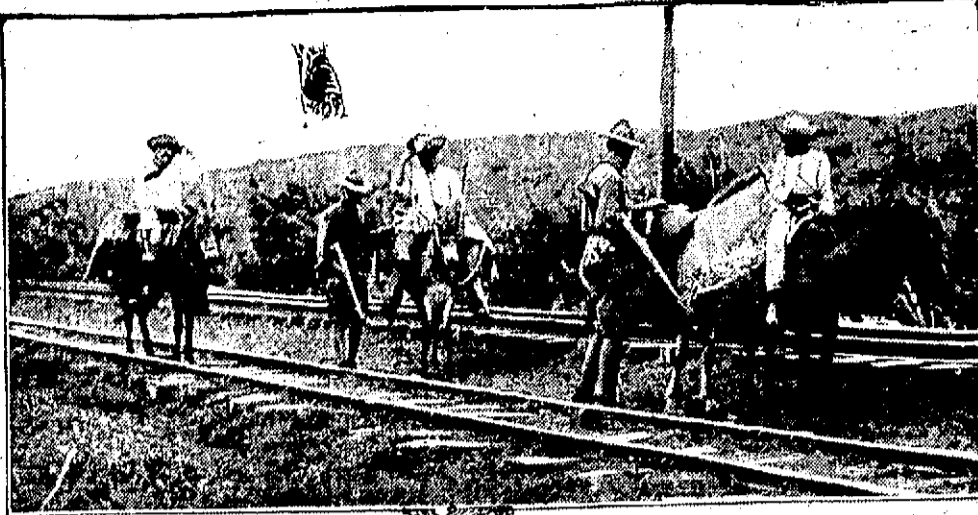

Seashore cottages are being opened for the season, and soon the campers will be establishing themselves in the hills and mountains and along the lake shores. There are a few months of delightful times ahead for those able to avail themselves of the privileges and comforts that nature affords in the good old summer time.

Dr. Cook has decided to bring suit against Admiral Peary for damages in the sum of $35,000 because the latter says the former didn't discover the North Pole, and also took possession of food supplies left by the Cook party at Annoatok. This is another chapter to be added to the long-winded and tiresome controversy.

The coming and going of the Waterland, the new monster ocean steamer, were occasions of much interest in New York, together with considerable excitement and danger. It is safe to assume that the next time she comes the small craft in the harbor will do their best to clear the track for her.

Premier Asquith has secured home rule for Ireland, but he can't induce England to take part in the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco. While the exposition will go on just the same, the decision is one that will be regretted by the people of the United States.

Strong Network Against Spies Drawn Around Vera Cruz, as These Timely Pictures Show.

Photos copyright, 1914, by American Press Association.

United States soldiers and marines on guard along the railroad lines leading from Vera Cruz are careful to put natives who pass through a searching examination. Several have been caught trying to smuggle papers through the frontier showing the position of the American soldiers. The top picture shows soldiers examining natives. The bottom view shows soldiers in the sand dune trenches outside of Vera Cruz keeping a watch on suspected spies.

Death Gratuity Payment

The secretary of the navy desires a change in the provision of law providing for the payment of a death gratuity to the dependent relative of a deceased officer or enlisted man of the navy or marine corps. The sum of $75 in case of an officer and $35 in case of an enlisted man is reserved to defray the expense of interment. Mr. Daniels points out that this provision is the cause of much correspondence with the families of the deceased, who have in many instances met all or part of the expenses of interment. Deductions made in such cases have given rise to dissatisfaction and require explanations not easily made. He therefore recommends that the payment of the death gratuity be made, exclusive of the expenses of interment, which the government defrays under existing law.

LAST OFFICER OF KEARSARGE

Sidney Leroy Smith Remained in the Navy Until 1885.

Sidney Leroy Smith, said to be the last surviving officer of the Kearsarge died yesterday at his home at 90 Elm Hill avenue, Roxbury, aged about 76. He was born in Boston and was a graduate of Dartmouth. When the Civil War broke out, he enlisted as a volunteer in the navy and was third engineer on the Kearsarge during her engagement with the Alabama. Mr. Smith remained in the navy until 1885 retiring with the rank of first assistant engineer. He came to Boston and associated himself with the Roxbury Carpet Company, retiring about fifteen years ago. He resides in Roxbury for a number of years. He was a member of the Loyal Legion. He is survived by his widow, one son, Philip Sidney Smith, who is attached to the United States Geological Survey and at present is in Alaska; and one sister, who lives in North Adams.

If the owner of a certain black and white dog with shaggy hair desires to retain his dogship, he had better keep him disconnected with the garbage pails along Miller avenue.

CURRENT OPINION

Women in Politics
 Making for Better Race

Women are responsible for the new philosophy of government. This new philosophy is worldwide—belongs to no party, no sect, no sex. This new philosophy believes that the government's purpose is to make people happier, to make them better. The only successful government is the one that succeeds in doing this.

The attainment of the ballot by the women of California has added not only a great moral reservoir of resource, but there has also come a progressive force, unhampered by the traditions of party that sometimes make men slow to move on to new things. If we can bring men up to this standard, then partisanship will disappear in the consideration of better things for humanity.—By Governor Hiram Johnson of California.

TROOPS UNDER SEALED ORDERS

Arrangements for Annual Hike Are Changed Because of Flag Day.

All the organizations of the New Hampshire National Guard with the exception of the Coast Artillery Battalion are to participate in the great flag day celebration in this city, according to the state officials who have changed the arrangements for the annual tour of duty of the National Guard in order that it may be assembled in this city.

From the present outlook New Hampshire troops are due to have the most unique maneuvers that any state of the union have ever taken part in. Governor Samuel Felker, commander-in-chief of the militia will in all probability hand Adjutant General Herbert E. Tuthery sealed orders when the parade has passed the reviewing stand, containing the instructions for the regimental and company commanders for the remainder of the week's tour.

Every unit of the New Hampshire guard will be mobilized in Manchester instead of at Concord, according to the original plans, and in the philosophy of the adjutant general himself, they will have their complete war equipment with them when they land in Manchester and their week's wash, so that it will not matter to the men in what direction they go from Manchester for the week's tour of duty.

The authorities at Concord believe this will be a very admirable occasion on which to show President Wilson the kind of citizen soldiers this state is prepared to send to the front at any time he calls for them and it is not beyond a possibility that the President may witness some of the work of the New Hampshire guard in the field following his visit to this city.

According to General Tuthery he has not yet made any arrangements for the departure of the guard from this city following the parade, and he himself has suggested that the proposition of the governor handing him sealed orders at the conclusion of the parade might be a good way for the men to work out their own problems without any elaborate pre-arranged plans being made by the department heads at Concord.

Such an arrangement will place the men and their officer strictly on their own resources and if this plan is decided upon it is believed that the plans will be kept strictly secret, only the quartermaster and commissaries being advised as to the routes over which provisions shall be sent to the supply depots which will be established.

The plan presents possibilities for the most interesting tour of duty the New Hampshire men have ever engaged in and by some of the local officers it is believed that upon the completion of the Flag Day parade, they will be divided into two armies and giving problems involving a long hike, to look out for themselves.

NAMED AS CORESPONDENTS

Wood and Peaslee Are Both Named in Divorce Case,
Complicating Murder
Mystery.

Concord, N. H., May 27.—Several important developments which may add additional light on the mysterious Peaslee murder in Henniker dropped out today. It has been learned that both the murdered man, Howard W. Peaslee and the man charged with the crime, Eugene Wood, were named as correspondents in the answer of Clarence W. Osgood of Henniker to a divorce petition filed against him by his wife, Eva J. Osgood, September 19, 1913.

In her petition Mrs. Osgood charged extreme cruelty, and her attorney, Mayor N. E. Martin, obtained an injunction from Justice Peaslee ordering Osgood from his Henniker home. He is now employed by the Iver Johnson Company in Pittsburg, Mass. The attorney is Thomas Casey of Pittsburg. Casey has secured a delay in the case until next fall for the purpose of finding the man whom he describes as the principal correspondent in the case and who is supposed to have fled to Texas.

The fact that Peaslee and Wood were both named in the answer as correspondents is expected to furnish Woods attorney with excellent material for strengthening his defense as it is intimated that both Miss Barnes and Mrs. Osgood who were the principal witnesses against Wood at the preliminary hearing at Bradford yesterday, may have an ulterior motive in testifying against the suspect in the manner they did.

Joseph A. Donigan, attorney for Wood said tonight that he is going to Henniker, the first of next week and camp there examining every bit of evidence he can get hold of any questioning everybody who may have the slightest knowledge of the case. He said he is firmly convinced of his client's innocence and hinted that there was a stronger motive for the crime than petty domestic jealousies. He intends to sift the matter to the bottom and to present to the county solicitor any evidence which he may secure implicating another party in the crime.

Judge of Probate Charles R. Corning of Merrimack county today appointed Morrison Peaslee administrator. The boy will have the power of opening his father's safe, the key to which has been lost and which it is believed contains the murdered man's will.

Mrs. Parmenter, daughter of the murdered man, and her husband do not lend themselves readily to the theory that Wood committed the crime. Mr. Morrison being particularly anxious for the authorities to get after another man who may have had a stronger motive to accomplish the murder than Wood had.

OBSEQUIES

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Brown

Many sorrowing friends attended the funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Elizabeth M. Brown held at 8 o'clock this morning at the church of the Immaculate Conception. High mass of requiem was offered by Rev. E. J. Walsh P. R., and the musical portion of the service was rendered by members of the senior choir. The floral emblems were numerous which silently expressed the grief occasioned by the loss of the departed.

The interment was in St. Mary's cemetery by funeral director W. P. Miskell, and the following acted as pall bearers, C. J. O'Keefe, Joseph H. Flynn, John Daley, Joseph Long.

The following are the list of floral tributes:

THE EXPRESS IS IN THIS TOWN AND IN TO STAY

FOR seventy-five years—three-quarters of a century—the express has been the right-hand of the shippers of commercial America. The Express came to Portsmouth in 1857 and it came to stay. For 57 years it has been the right-hand of commercial Portsmouth.

It is here to stay. The other day when reports went out that the express companies might retire from business, a protest went up. From whom this protest—the express companies? No! The merchants of the country—shippers everywhere—petitioned Congress that no action be taken that might have the effect of forcing the express companies to retire. Commercial organizations all over the land have joined in this appeal to Washington

HUERTA WANTS TO GET OUT WITH DIGNITY

Willing However to Quit--Constitutionalists Want to Be Represented at the Peace Conference.

Washington, May 27.—Official dispatches sent from Mexico City and received at a diplomatic source here today say the "withdrawing" of Huerta is "possible," and add that it is being delayed by the necessity of arrangements to permit the dictator to abdicate with dignity.

Sec. Bryan cancelled his engagement to speak before the arbitration conference at Lake Mohonk because he did not feel he ought to be away from Washington at this time, he said.

Recurring published reports of the impending abdication of Huerta received much attention in official circles and in the diplomatic corps. Admittedly that is one of the next important developments in the Mexican situation which is generally expected, but no one here professes to have any definite information of when it is likely to come.

ZAPATA EXECUTES LEADERS

Suspected Jesus Morales of Being a Spy—Joaquin Miranda Also Executed Recently

Mexico City, May 27.—Jesus Morales, who was known as "Tuerco" (the One Eye), a Zapatista leader, who was released from the penitentiary in Mexico City a month ago, and left for Moroles, to join one of the Zapatista bands, was executed Monday, in Toluca, by order of Emiliano Zapata, who adjudged him a spy, according to information received here.

Zapata also executed Joaquin Miranda, another revolutionary leader, who served the Government at the beginning of the Huerta Administration and later deserted.

The Minister of War denies the reports that the state troops of Oaxaca have rebelled. Constitutionalists from Tampico have been repulsed by Federalists in an attempt to land at Punta Bernal, north of Vera Cruz.

According to reports to Gen. Huerta, the situation at Mazatlan, Guaymas, Saltillo and Chihuahua remains unchanged. Small bands of Constitutionalists appeared in the neighborhood of San Luis Potosi yesterday morning but were driven back by the Federal garrison.

Washington, May 27.—Representatives of the Constitutionalists here took steps today to reopen the question of representation at the Niagara mediation conference.

John Lind and C. A. Douglas, legal representative of the Constitutionalists, held what was termed a neutral conference early today, and later went to the State Department to take up the subject with Sec. Bryan, who had gone to the Capitol to confer with Senators of the Foreign Relations Committee. Their conference with the Secretary was, on that account, deferred until later in the day.

Neither Mr. Lind nor Mr. Douglas would disclose under what conditions the Constitutionalists were willing to participate, but the opinion was received that the powers of a Carranza representative would be very limited, perhaps without plenary authority and only for the purpose of furnishing information. What sudden turn in the negotiations had brought about the new attitude of the Carranza group was not disclosed.

Today's development undoubtedly was an direct outcome of long conferences which Gen. Carranza has been holding over a special telegraph wire with Emilio Zubaran, his Minister of the Interior, in charge of the Constitutional agency here.

Jose Yascuccion, one of the Carranza agents, who has been mentioned as a probable choice to represent Gen. Carranza at Niagara, still is in the city; Luis Cabrera, another agent, arrived at New York today on the steamship Olympic from Europe; Fernando I. Calderon, a third Constitutional representative, is in El Paso. It has been said that if Gen. Carranza sent representatives to the Niagara conference, those three men probably would be selected.

Very Favorable Indication. Whatever might be the first conditions upon which Carranza would send representatives to the mediation conference, the fact that he may be willing to send them at all is generally regarded here as a very favorable indication.

Although the Constitutionalists have reiterated that they were willing to participate in any mediation which dealt with the relations of Mexico with the United States, and that they were opposed to taking part in any mediation over the internal affairs of Mexico. It was pointed out that the recurring proposal for the establishment of a provisional government to be selected by the mediators, the Huerta-delegates and the American delegates and to be recognized by the United States may have advanced the situation to the point where the Constitutionalists think it best for their interests to have representatives on the ground.

President Wilson continues to keep in touch with the Niagara conference, through the means of a special wire from the White House to Niagara Falls.

RAPID DEVELOPMENTS

President Wilson Encouraged by Reports of Substantial Agreement on Many Leading Points.

Washington, May 27.—While the Huerta and American delegates to the Niagara conference and the three mediators prepared to enjoy a brief respite from their work at an official garden party in Toronto today, President Wilson and his advisers reviewed progress that has marked the mediation proceedings up to this time and discussed plans was reflected in Washington.

The fact that the delegates and the South American envoys did not hesitate to attend the Toronto fete was regarded as emphasizing reports of rapid, harmonious developments at Niagara Falls.

The President was encouraged by statements that substantial agreement on many of the cardinal points involved in the conference has been reached by the two missions. Hope for an early solution, expressed in Niagara Falls, was received in Washington.

International phases of the Mexican question—the dispute between Huerta and the United States that led to the occupation of Vera Cruz—attracted most attention today, but the ultimate attitude of Carranza toward mediation was not lost sight of. Administration leaders and observers of the situation caused celebration of some Constitutionalists that Carranza never would parley with the Huerta delegates.

Carranza Wants to Take Capital.

That was not considered as a matter for apprehension once a protocol shall be signed between the Huerta and American missions, it is believed the northern faction might be willing to be represented at the conference, at least to point out its ideas for the establishment of a provisional government.

Some of Carranza's friends, who have been closely watching the Niagara Falls proceedings, have intimated that the northern chief would be ready for representation at the conference after his army takes Mexico City; capture of the Huerta capital they take for granted. Carranza remains in close touch with his Washington agents, and an early statement of his intentions is not unexpected.

The mediators and the delegates, according to assurances that reached here, did not intend to abandon their work for the day. Informal discussions will take place during the journey, between the border and Toronto. Just how far they had proceeded in their conferences over actual terms and details of many things considered necessary for the pacification of the southern republic was not revealed in Washington, but the optimistic attitude of the mediators and the members of the opposing missions was reflected by officials here.

President Wilson and Cabinet members were decidedly hopeful. That the preliminary basis for peace believed to be maturing at the conference soon would take the form of a protocol was not an unexpected development.

A GOOD YARN ABOUT TENNEY

The baseball player who endeavors to add to his bank account by becoming an author on the side, usually has his troubles, but Fred Tenney, the noted first baseman once had an experience as a writer more distressing than the average. At the time of the incident he was field captain of the Giants and was handling the southern training trip of the team for a metropolitan daily. One day the New Yorks played in a North Carolina city and Tenney was the big star of the contest. The club had to make a quick jump out of town, so Fred asked a regular scribe to write and send some stuff for him. The newspaperman also was in a hurry, so he merely wrote two copies of his story, and signed his own name to one and Tenney's in the other. The latter appeared in print something like this:

Back Step In the Open Tango

THIS is a simple and effective step when done correctly. A great many dancers spoil the effect by making low and grotesque dips. The correct position, as shown in the picture, should be an erect one, with slight bend from the waist.

This step may be led up to either by the scissors or a half corde from the open forward walking step. It affords a haven of refuge when stuck in a corner and tends to break the monotony of continually going forward.

Watch the positions of the arms in this step. The man's left and the girl's right arm are always held out straight, and the other arms are entwined whether going backward or forward.

brilliant all-around play featured today's battle. Tenney played magnificently in every department and proved himself to be by far the ablest man on the McGraw team. He made his fellow players look painfully slow by comparison.

Probably you can imagine what Fred heard by the way of pointed conversation when his teammates read the story. Also about what the writer players said to his friend, the newspaperman—Leslie's.

A LIBRARIAN'S TROUBLES

The tribulations of a librarian are entertainingly set forth in "Library Jokes and Jottings." The book is by Mr. Henry J. Coutts, branch librarian at Islington and president of the Library Assistants' Association. Here are two samples from a librarian's correspondence:

Dear Sir—Please renew the book that I took out about two weeks ago, or it might be three. I forgot the author and title, but it was bound in blue with a picture of a dolphin on the back.

Dear Sir—I believe you invite suggestions from readers. May I suggest that on Nov. 5 next you make a bonfire of your books, and get in a stock of new books? I have had out some works of fiction that were written fifty years ago.

It surely makes an awful difference to the P. A. C. team when "Ralph" and "BHP" don't come down from Durham.

Fra Newell's three bagger was the only real star play of the game, and when the pill hit the auto and disappeared, everyone thought it was good for a Homer.

We notice that one Coal Company man got a good little hit off what would have been a wild pitch if he hadn't stretched for it.

The little Coal Company battery is playing almost big league ball and they will make somebody go some before August.

THE LARGEST GENERATING UNIT

The largest electric generating unit ever built is to be installed shortly in the new generating station of the Philadelphia Electric Company. This unit will be rated at 35,000 kw. and it operated continuously for one year under the best conditions would furnish more energy than was delivered by central stations in 1912 to Maryland, Virginia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, North and South Dakota, Arkansas, Arizona, New Mexico and Wyoming. Measured overall the set is 63 feet 2 inches long, 21 feet 7 inches wide and 15 feet 10 inches high. Complete with generator and exciter the machine will weigh 600 tons.—Electrical World.

That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

They're especially for weak or disordered kidneys.

Here's a Portsmouth case.

Leslie Whitehouse, 7 Thornton street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "About a year ago I began to have trouble from my back and kidneys. Often a sharp catch darted through my body and became so bad that I could hardly move. I also had a dull, throbbing ache across my loins. The kidney secretions were highly colored and contained sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Philbrick's Pharmacy removed the trouble and I have had no return attack."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Whitehouse had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

U. S. WARNS AGAINST ALLEGED HOG CHOLERA CURES

Government Has Not Approved any Treatment Except the Protective Serum.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—Evidence of what appears to be a well organized campaign to delude farmers throughout the country into buying an alleged cure for hog cholera, under the impression that this has been investigated and approved by the United States Government, has reached the Department of Agriculture. Articles praising this medicine, denoted by name, are being sent out widespread to newspapers. These articles are so worded that it appears as if the Department of Agriculture had received reports from the state of Minnesota showing that the medicine had proved most beneficial. As a matter of fact the one report received by the Department was an unofficial and unsolicited statement sent presumably from the promoters themselves. The Department attaches no importance whatsoever to this statement. It has no reason to believe in the efficiency of any proprietary cure for hog cholera and does not recommend any. Under certain conditions it urges farmers to protect their stock with anti-hog-cholera serum but that is all.

In connection with this attempt it may be said that the medicine, which is now put forward as good for hogs, was advertised some time ago as a means of killing tuberculosis, typhoid and cancer germs, according to an article published in the Journal of the American Medical Association. At that time it was asserted that the Army was interested in it. As a matter of fact the Army was no more interested than the Department of Agriculture is now.

In view of the evidence that the attempt to create this false impression is persistent and widespread, all hog owners are warned to communicate with the United States authorities before accepting as true any statement that the Government recommends any treatment other than the serum already mentioned.

By that time the football season will be rounding into shape.

Whether Villa will drive Huerta out of Mexico; what the A. R. C. members may accomplish; how Claret will take the Home Rule bill and what outages the British Suffragettes will commit; what will happen in Colorado if the Federal troops are withdrawn when the Cabinet will throw his hat into the ring, are all matters of moment but not one of them will suffice to diminish the interest of millions of Americans concerned with sport in the score of the daily game or the number of men that Matty struck out at the Polo Grounds.—From the New York World.

TALKS ON THRIFT—No. 20

The Weekly Saving Plan

"The principal of thrift is the foundation of character," John A. Dix.

A movement has been started to get people to promise themselves to save and deposit something in the bank every week.

The pledge or covenant they make with themselves is as follows:

I will become a "Weekly Saver," and will deposit $— every week for at least 52 weeks to my credit in a savings account at the Bank.

Signed.....

This seems like a very good idea. The object of the plan is threefold—

1. To demonstrate to depositors that in a year they can make 52 regular weekly deposits of at least a certain sum—no matter how small.

2. To show them that by adhering to their resolution for 52 weeks they form a habit, through which it will be easier for them to keep on saving than to stop.

3. Acquire a cash capital with which to grasp opportunity, realize an ambition or be ready for sudden and unusual necessity.

The advantages of such a method of building up a reserve fund are brought out, by implication, in these words of a banker in the Lompoc Valley of California, who says:

"The past two years, particularly the last one, have been what we call 'short' years in this valley. The rainfall was below the average and consequently the crops were short. For several years previous to 1912, our crops were exceptionally good, and everyone seemed to feel that he was making money and that this condition would continue indefinitely. Instead of paying off their mortgages and other indebtedness, a great many added to their land holdings, bought automobiles, etc. So, when the short years came they were unprepared."

A systematic method of saving is of benefit not only to farmers, wage-earners and salaried persons, but business men would do well to consider it seriously as a plan to build up reserve capital.

Those who have "arrived" are as likely to need an emergency or opportunity fund as are their employees.

Any business man, personally, may have need of a little extra private capital some day, available in cash, outside of his business, unknown to others and ready for any call.

Build a personal reserve. Have a business reserve, too. Don't argue that you can use your money to better advantage in your business. A reserve may be your financial salvation some day.

Don't say you will save weekly after you have "caught up" in expenses, for saving week by week is the best way in the world to catch up.

You will never earn enough money to spend all you want to before you begin to save anything.

OLD STAGE COACH DAYS

With Reminiscences of Maine Lawyers Thrown in

The giving up of Maine to the steam cars and steamboats marks a difference of more than a century in human life in Maine. People lived happily and had pretty babies and were married and prospered in 1815 when the battle of Waterloo was fought; but they were awfully slow. Their fastest messenger was a man on horseback or a liberated homing pigeon.

If one cannot recall the pictures himself he can remember hearing his grandparents tell about the stage coach days when big stages with two or four horses went galloping through the country carrying the mails and the news from Bangor or to Rockland.

When the writer of this was a boy he remembers running a mile across country to haul the old Bangor Daily Whig and Courier, and paying the stage driver five cents for a single copy of an eight page paper which told by telegraphic dispatch about the fall of Fort Donelson and stated how all is quiet along the Potomac.

It was worth it all. Any news from the war was good news, and ten cents would have been paid for a daily paper as readily as five cents. It is rather of the gray old crowds of lawyers and sheriffs and deputy sheriffs who rode out horse stage coaches which interested most centers.

The late Reuel Smith of Bangor used to tell with considerable sadness how he once hired a team in Bangor to carry Colonel Abner Knowles to Rockland for Chief Justice Peters was to open court at Rockingham the next morning, and unless Colonel Knowles was present at the opening he might be disbarred from practice. The tale of that sad gray race down in Penobscot Valley from Bangor to Hampden, in Winterport to Belfast and then on by relay from Belfast to Rockland, a mad haste against time to get the purple faced old colonel in Rockland all shaven up and trimmed and ready to meet the stern judge was an event to be remembered for a lifetime.

Everybody can remember the days when Barker, Yoss and Barker occupied the small law office on Hammond street under the shadow of Mr. O'Brien's then new city hall. Those were the men who could tell about stage coaching days in Maine. The careers of the two Barkers, father and son were enough to make a book of itself.

Lucius Higgins, now of Minneapolis, has often told about his surprise on hearing the late Arno Wiswell of Ellsworth arise and say that Eugene Hale a politician was the ablest lawyer before the Ellsworth bar and all the other lawyers took their hats off to him. He won his place by dint of hard fighting and hard riding on stage coaches.

Nowhere in the hustlings between Lincoln and Douglas on the stump in Illinois were there ever more anxious endeavorers to win votes than were brought in any part of Maine. How much the old stage coaches had to do with the making of governors of the old members of congress in Maine nobody knows. It is probable however that the meeting with men face to face and the fighting it out to a finish was far better than the modern way of corrupting the constituency by the lavish use of money.—The Bangor News.

HUNGER STRIKE WINS FREEDOM

London, May 27.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was again released from Holloway jail today suffering from the effects of a "hunger strike." She had refused to eat from the moment of her arrest during last week's raid by the suffragettes on Buckingham palace, when they tried to carry a petition to King George.

COMMITTEE FAVOR BITULITIC PAVEMENT

The Finance Committee of the City Council, who, with Mayor Yeaton and the members of the Board of Public Works, who made an inspection last week of the pavements in and about Boston, are greatly impressed with the merits of the Bitulitic pavement, which is being extensively used in Boston.

This is a combination of asphalt and crushed stone, and it has wonderful wearing qualities. A sample of the pavement cut out of Hancock street, Boston, in the presence of the local officials, has been received at City Hall. This pavement has been down 10 years and it does not show any wear whatever. The wearing qualities and the quickness with which it can be repaired, made a big impression on the committee. The repair work can be hardly noticeable after it is once laid.

The City Council will take up the matter of permanent pavement on some of the streets at the next meeting, and it is understood that both the Public Works and Council are of the same mind; that all street work should be of a permanent nature.

THE FRIEND

(By Dr. Frank Crane)
Published by the Alkaloid Company, with permission of author and Huseon Globe.

A friend is the person who is "for you" always under any suspicion.

When charges are made against you he does not ask proof. He asks the accuser to clear out.

He likes you just as you are. He does not want to alter you.

Whatever kind of coat you are wearing suits him. Whether you have on a dress suit or a hickory shirt with no collar, he thinks it fine.

He likes your moods and enjoys your pessimism as much as your optimism.

He likes your success and your failure endures you to him the more.

He is better than a lover because he is never jealous.

He wants nothing from you except that you be yourself.

He is the one being with whom you can feel safe. With him you can utter your heart, his business and his goodness. You don't have to be careful.

In his presence you can be indelicate; which means you can rest.

There are many faithful wives and husbands; there are few faithful friends.

Friendship is the most admirable, amazing and rare article among human beings.

Anybody may stand by you when you are right; a friend stands by you even when you are wrong.

The highest known form of friendship is that of a dog to his master. You are in luck if you can find one man or one woman on earth who has that kind of affection for you and fidelity to you.

Like the shade of a great tree in the noonday heat, is a friend.

Like the home port with your country's flag flying after long journeys, is a friend.

A friend is an impregnable citadel of refuge in the strife of existence.

It is he that keeps your faith alive in human nature, that makes you believe it is a good universe.

It is an antidote to despair, the elixir of hope, the tonic for depression, the medicine in cure outside.

When you are vigorous and spirited you like to take your pleasures with him; when you are in trouble you want to tell him; when you are dying you want him near.

You give to him without reluctance and borrow from him without embarrassment.

If you can live fifty years and find one absolute friend you are fortunate. For the thousands of human creatures that crawl the earth, few are such stuff as friends are made of.

FOREST NOTES

Four buffalo calves have just been born on the Wichita national forest, bringing the herd up to 51.

In cooperation with the weather bureau, forest rangers are to measure snow depths in the western mountains.

Students of the Oregon agricultural college are working at the forest nursery on the Sheslaw forest. The arrangement is said to be mutually satisfactory since the students gain experience in forest nursery practice and their assistance lowers the cost of nursery work.

Manufacturers have found that red alder from the Pacific coast is a suitable material for clothpins. Alder makes a white, springy pin. As a result of this fact, a clothpin factory, said to be the first on the Pacific coast may be established at Portland, Oregon.

The city of Tacoma, Washington, has entered into a cooperative agreement with the forest service for the protection of the source of its water supply, the watershed of the Green river, which lies within the Rainier national forest. The two agencies working together will protect this stream from the results of forest destruction by fire or by other agencies.

SCHOOL PRESENTED WITH FLAG

Major David Urch Makes Interesting Remarks in Connection With Presentation at Haven School

At 10.30 o'clock this morning an interesting program was carried out at the Haven school when a handsome flag was presented by Major David Urch to the school. In presenting "Old Glory," Major Urch made the following interesting remarks:

Nearly a quarter of a century ago,
many years before any of the present pupils of this school were born, a rivalry almost as great and popular as your base ball games of today, existed among the grammar schools of this city, for supremacy in rowing contests upon our river.

Each of the three principal schools,
the Whipple, the Farragut and the Haven, had great long eight-oared rowing boats, in which many a friendly contest for speed resulted sometimes in victory for the Whipples, and again for the Farraguts, and once in a long while the Havens found joy as the winner. Great became the interest, and the contests between the rival boats was renewed at every opportunity, and whenever or wherever they met.

Parents and friends by hundreds, as well as the teachers and scholars of the respective schools, took increasing interest in every reported meeting of the rival crews, including your very humble servant.

At length we offered a prize to consist of all the receipts of toll taken at the New Castle toll gate on the approaching Fourth of July, to the school of the winning boat, in a contest to be held in the afternoon of that day, and as one incentive to increase the amount of the prize, it was decided by the committee in charge to hold the contest in the still waters of the Pool south of the bridges named.

In the waters named, a course was laid out; judges were appointed consisting of enthusiasts of all the schools, and on that Fourth of July, 1892, the three crews appeared with their boats painted and black-leaded for speed, and every boy of each crew flushed with the hope, even the surety of easy victory over their rivals. Scores of boats containing spectators darkened the waters of the vicinity, while even thousands crowded the second bridge of the series, and the shores adjoining.

The contest for the supremacy of the Piscataqua on that anniversary of our National independence began, and amid the wild shouts and enthusiasm of the thousands, it ended in victory without protest, for this, your Haven school!

The proceeds for the prize was some $38.00, and it was decided that the gift should be the emblem of our country—a silken starry flag.

Here is that flag! It has been the center around which successive generations of this school have rallied during all these years; both they and you have all loved its starry field and bright folds, and doubtless from its very presence have learned lessons of patriotic fervor that shall last them and you through life, and when that ends, may you find comfort in that patriotic spirit of the wounded boy soldier upon the field of battle when he said:

"Oh wrap the flag around me, boys,
To die were far more sweet,
With freedom's starry emblem, boys,
To be my winding sheet."

But the old flag, like the veterans of the great Civil war, but unlike the symbols that it teaches, has grown old and past its usefulness. May it find a place of rest in some nook of the old Haven school, as it doubtless will, in the memories of its pupils of both the present and past generations.

urday Evening 6.45.
Watch for the seventh story of "Dollie of the Dailies" series, with Mary Fuller.

But the spirit of patriotism in nother the past members of our old school, nor in the parents of its present scholars is wanting.

Generously they have freely contributed to a fund for the purchase of another beautiful emblem of our National life. It is here—And it becomes my proud and happy privilege to present to this school, through its principal, in their name on their behalf, this beautiful silken gift, well knowing that should the time ever come, which God forbid, when protection to the land
it represents, may be needed, past Haven school scholars will be second to none in its defence.

May the affirmative be ever their answer to the question:
"Oh say! Does that star spangled banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?"

The flag was accepted in behalf of the school by Principal M. Frances Bollwell, in a few but well chosen words.

The flag salute was rendered in a fine manner by the pupils of the school and this was followed by the recitation, "Our National Flag," by Miss Elene Woods.

The two hundred and fifty children
then rendered "The Star Spangled Banner," in a very pleasing manner.

Major Urch then delivered the following patriotic address:

Why are we here? Old veterans of a great war occurring many years before even your teachers were born?

Thousands upon thousands went to that war that never came back, and thousands of them not many years older than some of the pupils of this school. Millions and billions of money were spent, and the sick and the wounded literally covered the land!

What for? To prevent the destruction of the country; to continue the starry flag and our country undivided, and to give freedom to millions of human slaves, and to the coming generations of their children yet unborn.

At the breaking out of this greatest of all modern wars, it was my privilege to have been a pupil, like you, in this old Haven school. Like you of today we played upon these grounds, then rough, rocky and ledgey. No beautiful shade trees then lifted their now gi-gantic proportions to give beauty and shade to us. Like you we dug dandelions in the fields and picked berries in the adjoining pastures and woods.

We swam in the same secluded nooks and pools, and fished from the same wharves and bridges. We slid down the same Bake House and Brown's hills, and skated upon the same mill and cemetery ponds, and we left the same old Haven school at recess, noon and night at the tinkle of this same little bell that we now hold in our hand, then the property of our Haven school principal, Alfred M. Hoyt.

But we are not here to foster in your young minds and hearts the so-called glories and honors of war; but rather, as you grow up to manhood and womanhood may the roads you travel in the journey of life be ever away from strife and war, and all your pathways be paths of peace.

As you journey down this pathway of life, some will tell you that he who dies upon the battlefield is a man of honor; that parliaments and senates return him thanks and that whole nations unite in erecting monuments to mark the spot where sleeps his corpse. And history teaches us, that Nelson, perhaps the greatest naval chief of all time, who did battle upon the water, was a skillful officer; that his banner was his shroud; that the roar of cannon was his dirge, and that the shouts of naval victory was his requiem; that in the history of naval heroes his name stands foremost; and that all who love the sea have learned to honor him.

Then there are others who will tell you that he, whose purpose in life it has been to dry up the stream of blood, to smooth the head upon the dying pillow, who offers himself a sacrifice to a suffering humanity, wins a truer, a more honorable and glorious victory than ever shone around the achievements of the most blustrious hero who ever won victory by bloodshed, on placid land or upon troubled sea.

In the coming years of your yet young lives, we trust that you may never forget that "Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war."

We have always had a feeling approaching veneration for our old Haven school, and a kindly interest in its teachers and each successive generation of its coming and going pupils, and—

"If every kind wish were a rose
And that rose had not a thorn,
Your paths through life with sweetest flowers.

Fair friends, I would adorn.

"But flowers will fade and gems decay,
And early joys depart,
One treasure always will remain,
The peace of the pure in heart."

Other speakers were Comrades Doherty, Marston, Bell and Peterson, and each was listened to with great interest.

The exercises were brought to a close by the singing of "America."

The Herald Hears

That the Jefferson Club is said to be talking baseball and hope to appear on the diamond soon with a team.

That the club has a speedy battery.
That a Massachusetts auto party had a narrow escape from a very serious accident last night on the state road.

That the driver thought the white lights on the wood work across the road confused him.

That red lights should be placed there for proper protection.

That the lady who predicted six weeks ago that we would get no good weather until after May 10, certainly hit it correctly.

That the firemen years ago paraded
on Decoration Day.

That the female admirers of the Consolidation Coal Company baseball team had their eyes on the boys last night.

That the mosquito opened up with a vengeance last night.

That while the fly is being swatted
the other biting pest is getting great pickings.

That if a woman laughs at the jokes of her husband five years after their marriage, there isn't a look in for divorce lawyers.

That some women who are not born shapely can fix it up with expert dressmakers.

That we don't want to let the toll bridge question fade from our view.

That the school authorities are busy with the investigation on the high school fracas.

That State street residents and others do not intend to lose much more sleep over barking dogs at night.

That a fool man with the word,
"welcome" on it at the entrance of a police station is the next thing to a joke.

FATHER WAS MUCH ALARMED

Boys Went in Bathing and Did Not Return Home.

John Skruzes, a resident of Mc-Donough street, reported that his two young sons who went bathing on Wednesday afternoon had not returned home and he had much fear for the lads. Officer West was assigned to the case and he learned that nothing had happened to them as one of them had been seen on the street early in the day, and their absence from home was due to the fact that they took advantage of the warm weather and camped out doors for the night.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to those who so kindly helped us bear our great sorrow in the sickness and death of our beloved one, by their words of kindness and sympathy, also for the beautiful floral tributes.
